What Sets Us Apart

We are proud to be certified by HearingLoss.com[®], a certification program that represents a commitment to excellence in hearing care.

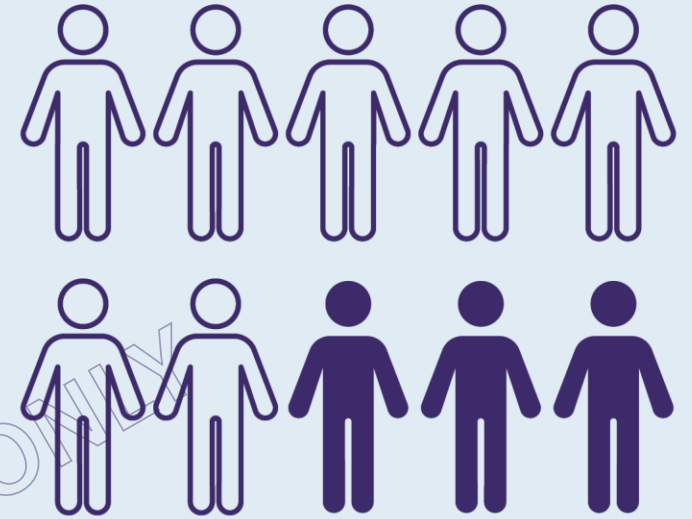

HearingLoss.com worked closely with expert audiologists and aligned with the American Academy of Audiology's best practices to develop two essential certification categories: clinical best practices and patient best practices.

We're Raising the Standard of Hearing Care

Exceptional hearing care focuses on clinical and patient best practices, ensuring your needs come first. This is central to being HearingLoss.com-certified.

One of the best practices we follow is real-ear measurement. This technique fine-tunes your hearing aid programming to perfectly match the shape of your unique ear canal and acoustic needs.
